

The San Diego Housing Commission's (SDHC) Choice Communities "Moving to Work" Initiative provides families that receive rental assistance with more flexibility to choose to live in neighborhoods that offer more opportunities for transportation, schools, and employment.

To increase housing opportunities through this initiative and to continue to assist as many low-income families as possible, SDHC updated the payment standards that are used to determine the amount of rental assistance each family receives.

SDHC divided City of San Diego (City) ZIP Codes into three groups, each with its own payment standards:

- Choice Communities
- Enterprise Communities
- Signature Communities

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development granted a waiver to SDHC, allowing a higher payment standard for Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (VASH) vouchers.

Payment Standards

The payment standard is the maximum subsidy payment that the VASH voucher would pay for an apartment or rental house minus the applicable tenant rent portion. Families pay a predetermined amount of the rent, and SDHC pays the remainder of the rent, up to the applicable payment standard, directly to the landlord.

The payment standard is based on the number of bedrooms approved for the family's size and the community to which the family moves.

If the total rent payment for an apartment or house is higher than the payment standard, the tenant is responsible for paying the difference, in addition to their predetermined portion of the rent.
